Master of Arts Degree
ONLINE
Instructional Design and Technology Program
Nationally Recognized Program – NCATE/AECT

The online Instructional Design and Technology (IDAT) program assists teachers and trainers to improve their professional performance and to assume leadership roles.

Students are accepted from corporate, government, nonprofit, and educational environments. The program emphasizes a theoretical base for curriculum design and exposure to a broad array of the most current instructional methods and materials. The IDAT program is interdisciplinary, allowing acquisition of knowledge in a wide range of subjects.

The state of New Jersey offers no certification or endorsement for computing teachers. Anyone holding a standard NJ teaching license in any K-12 field and having the knowledge and skills requested by a school district can be hired to be a computing teacher.

A 24 month, 36 credit degree program, students complete course requirements online and are able to earn the degree while continuing to meet professional and personal commitments. Three weekend on-campus residencies are required.

Admission: APPLY ONLINE
