Leadership Institute for Academic Librarians in Catholic Institutions

COSPONSORED BY THE CATHOLIC LIBRARY ASSOCIATION

INSTITUTE FACULTY

Marta M. Deyrup, Ph.D. Professor/Librarian, Seton Hall University. In addition to coordinating cataloging for Seton Hall’s University Libraries, Deyrup is co-director of the Elizabeth Ann Seton Center for Women’s Studies at Seton Hall University. In high demand as a professor she has also taught for Emporia State University’s School of Library and Information Science, The University of Zadar in Croatia, Simmons Graduate School of Library and Information Science, Rutgers University Department of Library & Information Science and for the Harriman Institute, Columbia University. Deyrup is an experienced editor and writer. She has served as Editor, Library Administration & Management, Member, Editorial Board, Technical Services Quarterly and Acquisitions Editor for LITA publications. A Slavic languages scholar, her most recent book is The Vita Constantini as Literary and Linguistic Construct for the Early Slavs, VDM Verlag, 2009. Deyrup holds a Ph.D. M.A. and M. Phil. in Slavic Studies from Columbia University, an M.L.S. from Rutgers University, and a B.A. in English from Wesleyan University.

A Gabriel Esteban, Ph.D., Provost and Vice-President for Academic Affairs. Seton Hall University was appointed in August 2007. Esteban was previously Provost, Dean of the College of Business and Professor of Marketing at the University of Central Arkansas. He served as Associate Vice President of Academic Affairs at Arkansas Tech University and was on faculty at the University of Houston-Victoria. He has also lectured at the University of the Philippines. Dr. Esteban has published papers in refereed journals and proceedings, and presented papers at national, international and regional conferences such as TIMS/ORSA, American Psychological Association, and International Trade and Finance Association. Active in various national, regional, and community groups, he recently served on a national task force that designed a Voluntary System of Accountability (VSA) for universities and colleges. He is involved in Leadership Education for Asian-Pacifics (LEAP) and regularly serves as a consultant evaluator for regional accrediting organizations. Dr. Esteban is past chair of the boards of the Conway, AR Chamber of Commerce and the Women’s Shelter of Central Arkansas. He received specialized training in Leading Transformation and Change at Harvard University’s Graduate School of Education, and completed the Japan Management Program at the Japan-America Institute for Management Science in Honolulu. He has private sector experience in the Philippines and in Japan. Esteban holds a Ph.D. from the Graduate School of Management at the University of California at Irvine, an M.S. in Japanese Business Studies from Chaminade University in Honolulu, and an M.B.A. and B.S. in Mathematics from the University of the Philippines.

Chrysanthy M. Grieco, Ph.D. is Dean of University Libraries at Seton Hall University. A professor at the University for 48 years, she has served as Chair of the English Department, Assistant to the Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, and Chair of Criminal Justice. As one of the first women faculty at the university, she was involved in groundbreaking initiatives by designing the Freshman English program and serving on a multitude of critical committees. Dr. Grieco comes from a clerical family. Her grandfather, Rev. Panagioti Mamouni, was martyred during the Catastrophe of Asia Minor; her brother, Rev. William S. Kehayes, was a church-builder priest in Connecticut, Michigan and in Naples, Florida, while her nephew, Rev. Spyridon B. Kehayes, is currently a priest in Virginia. She is an American-English editor for the Ecumenical Patriarchy of the Eastern Orthodox Church. Under the auspices of Catholic Studies, she served in the first Foundations of Christianity Workshop at Oxford University. President of her own firm, Communications for Business Associates, she has consulted at several Fortune 500 corporations. Grieco holds a Ph.D. in English Literature with a concentration in Shakespeare Studies from Drew University, an M.A. from Seton Hall University and a B.A. from Montclair State University.

Tracie D. Hall, MLS is Founder and Principle. Goodseed Consulting Group. Chicago, IL. Hall has extensive experience in public library service, academia and business. Positions held include Strategy Integration Specialist, The Boeing Company-Global Corporate Citizenship Division; Assistant Dean, Graduate School of Library and Information Science, Dominican University, River Forest, IL; Director, Office for Diversity, American Library Association; Senior Program Coordinator-Young Adult Services, Seattle Public Library; Branch Manager in the Hartford, CT Public Library System and Young Adult Librarian for the New Haven Free Public Library. She has taught Kiswahili at Wesleyan University, library science at The Catholic University of America and Dominican University, and women’s studies at Southern Connecticut State University. She is the recipient of the ALA Staff Achievement Award for her contributions to the association. Library Journal named her a “mover & Shaker” in 2004. Hall holds a B.A. in Black Studies and a B.A. in Law and Society from the University of California at Santa Barbara, an M.L.I.S. from the University of Washington and an M.A. in International and Area Studies with an emphasis on Sub-Saharan Africa from Yale University.

Rev. Paul A. Holmes, S.T.D. Vice-President for Administration, Seton Hall University. A priest of the Archdiocese of Newark since 1981, Father Holmes is Executive Vice President for Administration at Seton Hall University. The University’s first Vice President for Mission and Ministry, Father Holmes later served as Vice President and Interim Dean of the Whitehead School of Diplomacy and International Relations. He has taught moral and sacramental theology since 1988 and was the first Spiritual Director of Clergy Consultation and Treatment Service, an interdisciplinary treatment program for priests at St. Vincent’s Medical Center in New York. In 1999-2000, Father Holmes was invited to be the first occupant of the Carl J. Peter Chair of Preaching at the North American College in Rome. A native of New Jersey, Father Holmes studied for the priesthood in Rome. He holds a B.A. in Sociology from Seton Hall University, a Doctor of Sacred Theology (S.T.D.) from the University of St. Thomas Aquinas in Rome, a licentiate in moral theology (S.T.L.) from the Lateran University in Rome, a Bachelor of Sacred Theology (S.T.B.) from the Gregorian University in Rome, and a Master’s Degree in Liturgical Theology from Yale University.

Sulekha Kalyan, MLS is Collection Development Librarian/Associate Professor at Seton Hall University Libraries. She joined Seton Hall as Librarian/Assistant Professor in April 1997. Past positions include Cataloging Coordinator at Cabrini College in Radnor, PA and Cataloger in the Logue Library at Chestnut Hill College in Philadelphia. Kalyan holds an MLS from State University of New York at Buffalo and an MA from Kurukshetra University, India. Kalyan has extensive experience in the acquisition of all types of library materials, especially digital resources. She is a member of VALE Electronic Resources Committee 12 that guides the acquisition of databases for academic libraries in New Jersey’s VALE consortium.

Cait Kokolus, MSLS, Vice-President for Information Services and Assessment, St. Charles Borromeo Seminary. Philadelphia, PA. Kokolus has significant experience in Catholic academic and theological libraries. Her duties at St. Charles include curatorial responsibility for the seminary’s magnificent archival and art collections. Positions held include Director of Library, Mary Immaculate Seminary, Northampton, PA and Library Director and Art Curator, DeSales University, Center Valley, PA. She is a member of the Board of Directors of the Catholic Library Association and the American Theological Library Association. Kokolus has spoken and published extensively on topics ranging from prayer to historic preservation. She received her B.A. from Dunbarton College of the Holy Cross, an M.S.L.S. from The Catholic University of America, an M.A. in Religious Studies from St. Charles Borromeo Seminary and an M.S. in Pastoral Care from Neumann College in Pennsylvania.

Thomas W. Leonhardt, MLS. Director of Scarborough-Phillips Library. St. Edward’s University. Austin, TX. Leonhardt has outstanding experience in academic librarianship at major American and German universities. Positions held include Director of the Library at the Oregon Institute of Technology, Dean of Libraries at the University of the Pacific, Assistant Director for Technical Services for the University of Oregon Libraries, Head of Technical Services and Collection Development for the University of Oklahoma Libraries, Head of Acquisitions for the Duke University Library and founding librarian of the International University in Bremen Germany. His service in professional organizations includes President of LITA (Library and Information Technology Association) and Chair of the ALA Committee on Accreditation. He has published extensively. His most recent book is A Handbook of Electronic and Digital Acquisitions, New York: Haworth Press, 2006. He received his M.L.S. and B.A. in German from the University of California at Berkeley.

Howard F. McGinn, Ph.D., Institute Director is Dean Emeritus. University Libraries. Seton Hall University. McGinn has 40 years experience in management and leadership positions in academic, public libraries, public administration and business. Past positions held include General Manager and Managing Editor, Microfilming Corporation of America, a New York Times Company subsidiary; National Sales Manager, J.B. Lippincott Publishing Company; State Librarian of North Carolina; City Librarian for New Haven, CT; Dean of University Libraries at Clarion University of Pennsylvania, Director of the Library at Chestnut Hill College, and Library Director of the Emporia (KS) Public Library. He has published and presented extensively in the United States and Canada, particularly on the role of libraries in rural and urban economic development. He has taught in the schools of library science at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, North Carolina Central University, Southern Connecticut State University, and Emporia State University and marketing in the school of business at Campbell University. He currently teaches in the Core Curriculum program at Seton Hall. He holds a B.A. in Philosophy from Villanova University, an M.S.L.S. from Drexel University, an M.B.A. from Campbell University, an M.A. in Theology from Seton Hall University and a Ph.D. in Information Management from Emporia State University in Kansas.

Charles P. Mitchel, Ed.D. Associate Dean for Urban and International Initiatives. Seton Hall University. Mitchel is a highly sought-after lecturer, both nationally and internationally, in such areas as The Spiritual Dimension of Leadership; Leading from the Inside-Out, Creating and Maintaining Effective Urban Schools; Urban School Transformation and Personal and Professional Leadership Development. He was one of a few American educators selected to take part in training school leaders in several Eastern European countries, including, Macedonia, Albania, and the Ukraine. As Assistant Commissioner of Education in the State of New Jersey, Dr. Mitchel was responsible for revising the system of monitoring and assessment of all New Jersey schools and districts. In this position, he provided leadership for all twenty-one county superintendents as well as directing the Academy for Professional Development. Mitchel has served as Superintendent of Schools for Pompton Lakes, NJ and Assistant Superintendent of Schools for Newark, NJ. He was enshrined into Seton Hall University’s Athletic Hall of Fame for his outstanding basketball career. Mitchel holds a B.A and M.A.in Education from Seton Hall University and an Ed.D. from Farleigh Dickinson University.

Stella F. Wilkins, MLS is a librarian in the Theology Library at Seton Hall University’s Immaculate Conceptions Seminary and School of Theology. She has served the Seminary for more than 20 years providing reference services to students and faculty. She also teaches the Seminary’s annual research seminar for incoming lay and clerical graduate students. Wilkins earned an M.A. in Theology, with a concentration in Church History, from Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology and an M.L.S. from Southern Connecticut State University.

Jennifer A. Younger, Ph.D. Edward H. Arnold Director of Hesburgh Libraries. University of Notre Dame. At Notre Dame she oversees a faculty and staff of 195 people and a budget of $18 million. Younger has a distinguished career in academia. Before coming to Notre Dame in 1997 she served for six years as Assistant Director of Libraries at The Ohio State University and for nine years in several positions including Assistant Director, Central Technical Services at the University of Wisconsin – Madison. Younger has also served at the U.S. State Department Library and Northwestern University. Her contributions to international, national and regional library organizations are extensive. Some notable positions held include member, Board of Directors of the Association for Research Libraries; Chair and a founding member of the Catholic Research Resource Alliance and Vice-President of the Global Council and member of the Users Council at OCLC, Inc. Younger has published extensively and is in high demand as a speaker in the United States and Canada. She holds a B.A. in History, M.L.S. and Ph.D. in Library and Information Studies from the University of Wisconsin - Madison.