Course for Fall 2014

Dates: Tuesdays
Time: 7:00 – 9:00 p.m.
Location: Madison

Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology

Permanent Diaconate Formation Program

STHO 6207
Ecclesiology

Professor: Jeffrey L. Morrow, Ph.D.

Course Description: The mystery of the Church in its various human incarnations throughout history; the Church’s foundation, nature and fundamental structure. Themes: pluralism and the development of ecclesial life; models of the church; the importance of Mary in the life of the Christian community.

Jeffrey L. Morrow, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Undergraduate Theology, earned a Ph.D. from University of Dayton. He teaches a wide range of courses in Catholic Theology at Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology, including The Theology of Pope Benedict XVI, The Theology of the Old Testament, The Eucharist, and Ecclesiology. His research focuses on the history of biblical interpretation and theological exegesis. He also is interested in traditional forms of Jewish and Christian biblical exegesis, and especially the important role the liturgy plays in developing a sacramental hermeneutic. He serves as a Senior Fellow of the St. Paul Center for Biblical Theology, and is an active member of La Société Internationale d’Études sur Alfred Loisy, the American Academy of Religion, the Society of Biblical Literature and the College Theology Society, among other professional organizations.